

Contents

Foreword	IX
Acknowledgements	XIII
Principal Acronyms	XV
Principal Abbreviations	XVII
General Introduction	1
CHAPTER I
International organizations and other forms of international co-operation	11
1. General remarks	11
2. International organizations: Definition	13
2.1. Lack of a unifying definition of an international organization	13
2.2. Notion of an international organization in the works of the International Law Commission	15
2.3. Attempts to define an international organization in the international law literature	19
2.4. Constituent elements of an international organization	22
2.4.1. Legal basis	22
2.4.2. Structure	31
2.4.3. Law applicable to international organizations	37
3. International organizations and more flexible forms of co-operation	39
4. International organizations and treaty bodies	47
4.1. General remarks	47
4.2. Human Rights treaty bodies	50
4.3. Multilateral Environmental Agreements treaty bodies	52
5. Legal personality of international organizations	57
5.1. General remarks	57
5.2. International legal personality	60
CHAPTER II
Powers of international organizations	77
1. Capacity, powers and competences of international organizations	77
2. The sources of the powers of international organizations	81
3. Inherent powers of international organizations	83
3.1. The essence of Seyersted's concept of inherent powers	83
3.2. Doctrinal assessment of the concept of inherent powers	85
4. Attributed powers of international organizations	88

4.1. The essence of the attributed powers of international organizations	88
4.2. Decisions of international courts on the attributed powers of international organizations	94
5. Implied powers of international organizations	102
5.1. Origins of the concept of the implied powers of international organizations	102
5.2. International courts on the implied powers of international organizations	105
5.2.1. The Permanent Court of International Justice on the implied powers of international organizations	105
5.2.2. The International Court of Justice on the implied powers of international organizations	108
5.2.3. The Court of Justice of the European Union on the implied powers of international organizations	116
5.3. The basis for the implication of powers of international organizations	125
5.3.1. Nature of the basis for implication	125
5.3.2. Purposes and functions of international organizations as the basis for implication	127
5.3.3. Express powers of international organizations as the basis for implication	131
5.4. Limitations to the implication of powers of international organizations	134
5.4.1. Categories of limitations	134
5.4.2. Necessity or essentiality	135
5.4.3. Existence of express powers	137
5.4.4. Compliance of the implication of powers with fundamental rules and the principles of international law	139
5.4.5. Distribution of functions within an international organization	141
 CHAPTER III
Treaty-making powers of international organizations – General remarks	145
1. Treaty-making capacity and treaty-making powers of international organizations	145
2. Nature of the treaty-making powers of international organizations	148
3. Inherent treaty-making powers	152
4. Attributed treaty-making powers	154
4.1. Essence of attributed treaty-making powers	154
4.2. Statutory provisions as the source of the treaty-making powers of international organizations	157
5. Implied treaty-making powers	166
5.1. Essence of the implied treaty-making powers of international organizations	166
5.2. Implication of the treaty-making powers of international organizations	170
6. Rules of the organization as the source of the treaty-making powers of international organizations in light of the 1986 Vienna Convention	177
6.1. General remarks	177
6.2. Nature of the rules of the organization	180
6.3. Established practice of an organization as the rules of the organization	182

CHAPTER IV

Treaty-making powers of international organizations – The case of the European Union 185

1. Principle of conferral and the European Union's external competences	185
2. Statutory categories of the European Union's external competences	187
2.1. Exclusive European Union's external competences	187
2.2. Shared external competences of the European Union	190
2.2.1. Classification	190
2.2.2. Shared pre-emptive competences	190
2.2.3. Shared non-pre-emptive competences	191
2.2.4. Shared competences in the case of minimum Union standards	193
2.2.5. Shared competences in the area of foreign and security policy	194
2.2.6. Conclusion	196
3. Types of European Union treaty-making powers	196
3.1. Principle of conferral and European Union treaty-making powers	196
3.2. Expressly granted treaty-making powers	197
3.3. Exclusivity of the European Union's treaty-making powers	201
4. European Union treaty-making powers in areas of shared external competence	205
4.1. Specificity of the European Union's shared external competences	205
4.2. European Union treaty-making powers and shared pre-emptive competences	206
4.3. European Union treaty-making powers and shared non-pre-emptive competences	212
5. The European Union's implied treaty-making powers	215
5.1. General remarks based on the case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union	215
5.2. Implied treaty-making powers in the provisions of the Treaty of Lisbon	217
5.3. Flexibility clause	224
6. Mixed agreements as a special category of the European Union's international agreements	232
6.1. Characteristics of the European Union's agreements	232
6.2. The European Union's mixed agreements	234

CHAPTER V

Treaty-making powers of other forms of international cooperation – The case of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements in Multilateral Environmental Agreements 245

1. Autonomous Institutional Arrangements in Multilateral Environmental Agreements as a phenomenon in international institutional law	245
1.1. Autonomous Institutional Arrangements in international environmental law	245
1.2. Legal basis of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements	251
1.3. Structure of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements	255
2. Powers of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements	260

2.1. General remarks	260
2.2. Law-making by Autonomous Institutional Arrangements	262
3. Autonomous Institutional Arrangements at the international level	270
3.1. External powers of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements	270
3.2. Treaty-making powers of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements and their sources	271
4. International agreements of Autonomous Institutional Arrangements	278
4.1. Classification	278
4.2. Agreements with host organizations	279
4.3. Agreements with host States	281
4.4. Agreements with other Multilateral Environmental Agreement treaty bodies	283
5. Treaty-making powers of environmental treaty bodies – some remarks on de lege lata and de lege ferenda	288
General Conclusion	293
Kompetencje organizacji międzynarodowych do zawierania umów międzynarodowych (Streszczenie)	299
Les compétences des organisations internationales de conclure des traités (Résumé)	311
Bibliography	313
1. Books and Monographs	313
2. Contributions to Collective Works	319
3. Articles	325
4. Miscellanea	329
Sources	331
1. Selected Cases	331
1.1. Permanent Court of International Justice	331
1.2. International Court of Justice	331
1.3. Court of Justice of the European Union	332
2. Selected International Agreements	333