

Contents

List of Figures .....	11
Acknowledgements .....	13
Introduction .....	15
Chapter One
Applied discourses and theoretical frameworks .....	25
1.1. Postcolonialism and Native American Studies .....	25
1.1.1. Native American Studies .....	28
1.2. The ‘invention of tradition’ .....	29
1.2.1. Theoretical overview .....	30
1.2.2. Tradition underlying nation .....	32
1.2.3. Criticism .....	34
1.3. ‘Imagined communities’ .....	41
1.4. Language .....	45
1.5. Sociology and anthropology of sport: State of the art .....	50
Chapter Two
Negotiating identities and cultures at Haskell .....	53
2.1. The creation of American Indian boarding schools .....	56
2.2. Early years .....	60
2.2.1. Curriculum and student life .....	60
2.2.2. Assimilation and sovereignty: Narratives and celebrations ...	62
2.3. Negotiation, articulation, and performance .....	72
2.3.1. Curriculum and student life .....	73
2.3.2. Narrative .....	80
2.4. Reorganization in the boarding school .....	87
2.4.1. Changing narratives: Native pride, progress, and scholarship .....	88
2.4.2. Theatre, music, art and clubs .....	95
2.4.3. The military .....	100
2.5. Curriculum and narrative after World War II: Modernity, intertribalism and community .....	102
2.5.1. The Haskell community .....	108

Chapter Three

Encouraging Native American sovereignty and self-determination .....	119
3.1. Building political and economic sovereignty: American Indian Studies, School of Education, and Business Management .....	122
3.1.1. The School of Education .....	122
3.1.2. Tribal Management and the AIBL .....	123
3.1.3. American Indian Studies .....	125
3.2. Building environmental sovereignty .....	128
3.2.1. Environmental Science .....	128
3.2.2. The Haskell Indigenous Food Festival .....	130
3.2.3. Russell Means .....	138
3.3. Addressing the social problems of the Native American community: Social Studies and the Health and Physical Education Department .....	141
3.4. Promoting Native cultures: Language, literature, theatre, art, tradition, and religion .....	143
3.4.1. The English Department, Native languages, and NAJA .....	144
3.4.2. Theater .....	145
3.4.3. Native American culture clubs .....	148
3.5. Celebrating living Native culture and dealing with trauma: The Haskell Cultural Center and Museum .....	149
3.5.1. Dealing with trauma: The Healing Garden and the Medicine Wheel .....	150
3.5.2. The Rinehart Collection .....	155
3.5.3. Definitions of American Indian identity .....	156

Chapter Four

The profound role of sports .....	161
4.1. The role of sports in traditional Native American communities ....	162
4.1.1. Pre-contact sports .....	162
4.2. The role of sports in boarding schools: 1890-1930. ....	167
4.2.1. Carlisle athletics, Glenn S. “Pop” Warner, and Haskell athletics .....	167
4.2.2. The 1926 Homecoming celebrations at Haskell .....	176
4.3. The meaning of sports for Native athletes .....	193
4.3.1. Racism: Louis Francis Sockalexis .....	194
4.3.2. Spectacle and agency: Jim Thorpe (Wa-Tho-Huck) .....	195
4.4. The impact of the 1930s reforms and the process of myth building of Haskell’s athletics .....	199
4.5. Native athletes after World War Two .....	202

---

4.6. Athletes as role models: The impact of sports legends and coaches at Haskell .....	210
4.7. Sports as a catalyst for change .....	213
4.8. Warrior culture .....	217
Conclusion .....	227
Negocjowanie tożsamości Rdzennych Amerykanów: Rola tradycji, narracji i języka na Uniwersytecie Haskell (Streszczenie) .....	231
References .....	235
Appendix One: Haskell resources .....	245
Appendix Two: Indian Leader articles .....	247
Appendix Three: Interviews, public lectures and talks .....	253